

agreement," declared Sir Wilfrid in reply. "I may tell him that on this side we offer uncompromising support for the agreement. He thinks it would be a boon to Canada and a possible danger to the empire. We think that it would be a boon to Canada and to the empire."

Sir Wilfrid, after saying he was informed that the opposition intends to block the agreement indefinitely, said: "I have in my hand a report of the speech delivered at the Associated Press banquet in New York by William Northrup, M. P., one of the most important members of the Canadian opposition, in which he stated practically that the opposition in Ottawa will not allow this agreement to be carried into effect. I do not know what authority he has to speak, but I am informed that he voiced the decision of the Conservative caucus held only a few days ago. If such is the temper of the opposition, I think it will be necessary for me to revise my determination to go to England."

It is generally accepted here that Sir Wilfrid will not go to England, and that the fight over reciprocity will be prolonged and marked with a good deal of bitterness.

Another Investigation.
Washington, April 28.—Congress is asked to probe for violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, the interstate commerce acts and the various national banking association acts, in a resolution introduced to-day by Representative Stanley of Kentucky, and referred to the judiciary committee.

The bill provides for the appointment by the Speaker of a special committee of five representatives to conduct the inquiry, and if any violations are found that have not been prosecuted or legally disposed of, the committee is to report the cases to the House with bills directing proper execution.

It is made the committee's duty to investigate especially the United States Steel Corporation and ascertain whether it has violated the law in its relations with the Pennsylvania Steel Company, Cambria Steel Company, Lackawanna Steel Company or any other nominally independent concern, or with railroads, coal, insurance or trust companies or national banks.

The committee is to recommend legislation to reinforce the law and any prosecutions that may be deemed necessary.

Protest Against Arbitration.
Washington, April 28.—Protests against any arbitration treaty with Great Britain are accumulating in the files of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. Almost daily some members receive such petitions from various organizations, mostly from Irish societies. Representative Cullen of Massachusetts received a protest to-day from the central council, Irish county clubs of Boston.

Would Make Canal Free.
Washington, April 28.—Representative Hield of Delaware today introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of War to purchase the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal from the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company for a sum not to exceed $2,500,000, and to maintain it as a free and open waterway of the United States.

ADVANTAGE WITH KELLY.

Champion of Middleweight Title Beasts Thompson in Ten-Round Bout.
Pacine, Wis., April 28.—Kelly of Chicago, champion of the middleweight championship, bested Johnny Thompson, the Sycamore, Ill., "cyclone" after ten rounds of savage fighting here to-night.

Thompson fought a slugging, rushing battle, and was always willing to take Kelly's hardest blows to land one on his opponent's body.

WALKS AWAY WITH MONEY.

Dog Picks Up Package in Hunk and Tears It Open on Street.

King Mountain, N. C., April 28.—A big dog wandered in the People's Loan and Trust Company to-day and picked up a package lying on the floor and walked out with it. Clerks did not see him. About a half-block away he dropped the package on the sidewalk, and tore the paper open. His action attracted the attention of a passerby, who took the package away. It was found to contain a deposit ticket and $18 in silver and greenbacks.

The dog evidently thought that he had done something criminal, for he had come post haste down the street, and went upstairs to a law office.

English Steamer Wrecked.

Madrid, April 28.—A dispatch received from Mexico says that a big English steamship, the identity of which has not been established, has been wrecked on Cape Villano on the northwest coast of Galicia. The dispatch adds that it is not known whether there were any fatalities as a result of the wreck.

DOG DIDN'T DESERT HIM EVEN IN FIRE

Collie Nearly Perished in Blaze That Killed Friend He Was Trying to Save.

TEETH IN MAN'S COLLAR

Though Weak He Followed Body of Patron to Police Station.

New York, April 28.—"Prince," a big collie belonging to John Lawrence, a negro upholsterer, was playing on the sidewalk with his master late yesterday afternoon when Nathan Chalneck, who has a paint shop at 11 East One Hundred and Thirty-four Street, near door to the upholsterer's, came along. Though Lawrence, the collie dog, it has always been called Chalneck's dog in the neighborhood because of the great affection which they had for each other. At the sight of Chalneck the dog forsook Lawrence and bounded up to his old friend, springing up so that his forepaws rested on Chalneck's shoulders and barking his satisfaction as Chalneck caressed him.

"Come on inside, old fellow," said Chalneck, as he led himself into the paint shop, and Lawrence, nodding a greeting, made no objection when the dog followed the painter. He, too, has come almost to think of Prince as "Chalneck's dog."

Chalneck shut the door, leaving Lawrence outside. He still stood outside fifteen minutes later when he saw a thread of smoke creeping out over the sill of the door. He hung the door open, realizing that there was a fire inside, but he did not know where it was. He rushed forth drove him away from the doorway. The smoke was black and stinging with the fumes of burning oils and paints.

Lawrence ran to the corner and turned in a fire alarm, and when the engine came he called to the painter that Chalneck was inside. Man after man tried to rush through the smoke into the store, and each one staggered back in the sidewalk, half suffocated. Not one got more than three feet past the doorway.

The streams of water which the engines sent whirling into the place presently quenched the fire, and when the smoke had cleared the firemen came in. They found the dog standing first they saw no sign of Chalneck or the dog, but when they worked their way to the back of the shop they came on them lying in a heap. Chalneck's hands clutched the window sill as though he had tried to drag himself up and out. He was dead. Beside him, his teeth fast in Chalneck's collar.

The dog and the man he had tried to drag to safety were carried out to the sidewalk, where an ambulance surgeon from Harlem Hospital gave one look at the man and pronounced him dead. In the case of the dog, a spark of life remained, and the surgeon turned his attention to him.

It took nearly a half-hour of hard work, however, before the dog started weakly to his feet, gave his tail a wag or two to show that he was coming around, and then went over to the patrol wagon. He was one Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street Police Station, in which the body of Chalneck lay.

The surgeon said that Prince would be all right as soon as he got a little fresh air, and climbing into the ambulance, he returned to the hospital.

DANGEROUSLY WOUNDED IN SHOOTING AFFRAY

Alleged Revenue Officer Shot by Amherst Man, Following a Dispute.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., April 28.—Messrs. details have been received of a shooting affray at Lowesville, thirty-five miles from Lynchburg, which occurred in a store there Wednesday night, in which John Parsons, who is thought to be a revenue officer, was shot and dangerously wounded. It is alleged, by John Q. Adams, a resident of that section, Parsons was reported to have been shot three times, two of the shots taking effect in his throat.

At an all-day picnic at Lowesville Wednesday some kind of a row is said to have been started, and it was renewed in a store at night. Parsons took part in the fight, and it is claimed, drew his revolver and shot three times.

It was learned from Amherst Court-house this afternoon that warrants have been issued for both of the principals, but that no arrests had been made. Adams claims that it is understood that Adams claims that Parsons shot at him before he fired, but the report from Lowesville is that Parsons did not shoot at all in the melee.

It was reported from Lowesville this morning that Adams had not been arrested, because of a fear of him and his friends. Parsons, however, it will be arrested and he given a preliminary hearing at Lowesville.

GRISCOM RESIGNS

Successor as Chairman Will Be Picked in Interest of Harmony.

New York, April 28.—Landon Griscom, former ambassador to Italy, and close friend of ex-President Roosevelt, resigned to-night as president of the New York County Republican Committee. In a letter to Collin H. Woodward, vice-chairman of the committee, Mr. Griscom said that following illness of several weeks he had been advised by his physician to give up exhaustive political duties. His successor will be elected at a special meeting of the committee called for May 8.

During the recent visit of President Taft here Mr. Griscom and other public leaders were in conference with him, and it is said that Mr. Griscom's retirement was then discussed. Mr. Griscom became head of the committee last year, and came into open conflict with many leaders of the so-called old guard last fall in expounding the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt as chairman of the Republican State convention.

His successor, it was said by some, "will be picked in the interest of harmony."

FATALITY INJURES HIS BRIDE.

Married but a Week, Mrs. Collin H. Woodward Dies From Husband's Blow.

New York, April 28.—Mrs. Winifred Woodward, a bride of less than a week, is dying in the Flower Hospital from wounds which the police say were inflicted by her husband in a quarrel early to-day. The husband is under arrest, pending the result of her injuries. According to the police, the young

TEACHER SHOTS PUPIL.

Pistol for Use in School Play Proves to Have a Cartridge in It.

Manhattan, Kan., April 28.—A Catholic sister, who was drilling pupils at Plush, twelve miles north of here, in a school play, shot and probably fatally wounded one of them Wednesday afternoon with a revolver she did not know was loaded. The wounded girl is Pearl Reedy. She is eighteen years old and is the daughter of Jackson Reedy.

A rehearsal was being held in the school room after school had been dismissed for the day. The play was in which a revolver is used in one of the scenes. The revolver was put on a table for use when it should be needed.

One of the smaller boys slipped out of the room with the weapon, put a cartridge in it and tried to shoot a bird. The cartridge failed to explode, and the boy put the revolver back where he got it.

When the time came to use the revolver Mary Holmes, who was supposed to fire the weapon, picked it up, but laid it down again with the exclamation, "I'm afraid of that old thing."

The sister, to show her there was no cause for alarm, took up the revolver, pulled the trigger. Miss Reedy fell to the floor with a bullet near her heart.

NEW YORK CITY'S GROWTH.

Census Shows Its Population Is More Than 10 Times Greater Than in 1790.

Washington, D. C., April 28.—A bulletin issued yesterday by the Census Bureau, showing that the population of New York City's growth. The bureau has compiled the populations of the several boroughs and towns which have been incorporated in the greater city, and through these compilations it is possible to trace the population within the present limits of the city of New York from 1790 to 1910. In 1790 there were only 42,401 souls within the present confines of the greater city. The 1910 population was 4,766,882, or more than ninety-six times the population of 120 years ago.

(Tremendous strides that New York City has taken are shown further by the fact that the present population of the entire State is only twenty-seven times that of 1790, while the entire population of continental United States is only a little more than twenty-three times the figures in 1790.

Of the 19,161 souls in New York City in 1790, 13,131 were in the Borough of Manhattan. The Bronx then had only 1,781; Brooklyn, 4,495; Queens, 6,159; and Richmond, 2,825. The Borough of Manhattan in the 120 years has jumped from 13,131 to a population of 1,634,351.

DEATH ALMOST VICTOR.

Mrs. Brown Reaches New York, but Condition Is Very Grave.

New York, April 28.—Mrs. Carroll Brown, of Baltimore, the eldest daughter of the late John Brown, died here last night after a long illness. She was 82 years old, and had been suffering from a long illness. The cause of her death was pneumonia, and she died at her home in New York City.

The private car in which she was pushed to sea level reached the Grand Central Station at 6 o'clock. A few minutes later Mrs. Brown was on her way to the City Hospital. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Daly. Physicians were awaiting her, and to-night they held a conference.

"We do not now know exactly what is the nature of Mrs. Brown's ailment," was the statement given out at the City Hospital, "but her heart is affected, and her condition is very grave."

DOGS MOURN FOR MISTRESS.

Woman Who Reflected Homeless Animals Dies in New York, N. Y.

New York, April 28.—Surrounded by a score of dogs of many breeds which she had found homeless and had taken to her home, Mrs. Eliza Burt, fifty-eight years old, died at her home here last night after an illness of two weeks. Seemingly by instinct to realize the loss of their benefactor, the dogs gathered and howled in a dismal chorus for several hours after her death, until they were put out of their misery early today by the use of chloroform, in accordance with the express wishes of Mrs. Burt.

Montclair Pastors to Preach Against Evil in May.

Montclair, N. J., April 28.—Pastors of the leading churches of Montclair are arranging to deliver a philippic against society gambling from their pulpits on a designated Sunday in May.

The action of the clergymen is a sequel to the request made of Recorder Henry J. Van Hook, who asked the publication of the law relating to gambling, and which, it is said, was inspired by the prevalence of bridge whist and other forms of card playing in Montclair homes. The pastors who requested the publication of the law are the Rev. Orville Reed, of Trinity

Comment Withheld.

Mexico City, April 28.—"The statements attributed to Mr. Carral are so at variance with the facts and so inconceivable as originating from a person occupying such a high and responsible office of Vice-President of the nation holding friendly relations with the United States that comment of a critical nature would be better reserved."

In this manner, Ambassador Wilson commented to-night upon the United States view attributed to Vice-President Carral at Santander, Spain, and printed in 35 impartial, of this capital. In diplomatic and official circles the disposition to read the interview was general, several expressing the same opinion as did the ambassador.

"I am sure these views are not shared by the other responsible officials of the Mexican government," continued Ambassador Wilson.

"A Yankee Trick."

Engle Pass, Texas, April 28.—The killing of the Americans at Douglas, Arizona, during the battle between revolutionists and Mexican soldiers, was a Yankee trick, as was the destruction of the Maine in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, is what the Mexican officials of Ciudad Perdido Diaz says in a signed and official circular. The circular, which is being distributed in the city to-day, is signed by the jefe politico of the Ciudad Perdido Diaz district, the Mayor of Ciudad Perdido Diaz and by various court judges.

Fighting Is Resumed.

Tucson, Arizona, April 28.—Fighting between rebels and Federalists has been resumed in the vicinity of Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora, and, according to local advices received here to-day, forty men were killed or wounded in a battle at Hermosillo on April 25. Two hundred and twenty-five Federalists engaged a smaller number of rebels, and the latter withdrew when the rebellion was exhausted.

Hermosillo is a town between Ureco, where the revolutionary fight occurred a month ago, and Hermosillo.

WYLIE FAILS TO ARRANGE FOR AMICABLE DIVORCE

Returns to Europe Unsuccessful in Plan to Wed Mrs. Hiebhorn, With Whom He Eloped.

Washington, April 28.—With the rumored sailing of Horace Wylie, former European from New York this week, the smart set of Washington has relinquished the belief that a reconciliation between Mr. Wylie and his wife is possible.

Mr. Wylie, it is believed, came over to try to arrange a divorce with Mrs. Wylie, that he might marry Mrs. Hiebhorn, with whom he eloped last December. It is said Mrs. Wylie in a final effort to assist in the divorce, refused to assist in the divorce, and Mr. Wylie was obliged to return unsuccessful.

Mrs. Hiebhorn is reported to be living with her mother, Mrs. Henry M. Hiebhorn, in New York City. Mrs. Hiebhorn is said to have given Wylie the choice of obtaining a divorce or not, and Mrs. Hiebhorn again.

Meantime Mrs. Hiebhorn is preparing divorce papers which will name Mr. Wylie as co-respondent. The divorce papers are being prepared by Miss Blaine Pearson, aunt of Miss Hiebhorn, who has been described by her mother, is taking a great interest in the negotiations for the settlement of the affair, and is said to be about to adopt the orphan baby, on whom she now showers "finishing care." Mrs. Pearson is famous as Washington's "heliophone belle."

EMERSON DROPS DIVORCE SUIT.

Wife's Suit Advanced and the Taking of Evidence Ordered.

Baltimore, Md., April 28.—Captain Isaac B. Emerson's bill for divorce from his wife went by default yesterday in accordance with a decree signed by Judge Stump.

The case is now ready for the court examiner, and taking testimony will begin in a few days in Mrs. Emerson's suit against her husband. Captain Emerson is going to allow his wife to get a divorce from him.

William Shepard Bryan, Jr., of counsel for Mrs. Emerson, who filed her bill for divorce after Captain Emerson had filed his bill naming C. Hazelton Hushor, a well-known clubman of Baltimore, as co-respondent, went into court to-day and told Judge Stump that the bill filed by Mrs. Emerson against her husband had not been filed. The court, he ordered that the bill be marked "original."

SUPPORT PLEDGED

Guildhall Meeting in Interest of Arbitration Held.

London, April 28.—A resolution pledging the support of the British Empire to the proposed arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain was adopted to-day at a meeting of the officers of London, held at the Guildhall. The meeting pledged support to the principles of such a treaty, has secured the highest interests of the two nations and as tending to promote the peace of the world.

Among the notable speakers were Premier Asquith and former Lord Balfour, both of whom spoke eloquently of the treaty proposed by President Taft. These declared that its adoption would mark a new era in civilization, but both pointedly disclaimed that it would mean an alliance between the two countries.

A writer in the Morning Leader says a draft of the proposed arbitration treaty has been forwarded to the Foreign Office by James Bryce, the British ambassador at Washington.

COURTESY IS A HOBBLE SKIRT.

Not Deep Enough for Coronation Days, the Lord Chamberlain Opines.

London, April 28.—It is reported that Lord Chamberlain, the Lord Chamberlain, has decreed that women will not be allowed to appear in attire in hobble skirts at any of the court functions of the coronation of King George.

Fashionable dressmakers have been notified to tell their customers of the prohibition.

The prohibition is ascribed to the fact that hobble skirts will prevent their wearers from properly courting in the presence of Their Majesties.
